Part III - Additional Information

Pt 1, Line 1A - First class travel - The Chairman of the Board of Directors and spouse are authorized for first class travel. The Chairman of the American Gas Association serves on a voluntary basis and contributes a significant amount of time traveling in carrying out those duties. It is therefore appropriate during the Chairman's tenure that the Association reimburse the Chairman and/or the Chairman's company for expenses incurred in the conduct of the Chairman's duties and in accordance with AGA's travel policy. The President & CEO is eligible for business class travel expenses on flights scheduled for more than 2 1/2 hours. If business class travel is not offered for a specific flight, first class travel expenses may be reimbursed.

Travel for Companions - The Association recognizes that there will be occasions when it is appropriate for a spouse of an employee to travel on behalf of the Association. In these cases approval for the travel must be received in advance. AGA considers expenses of a traveling spouse to be taxable income to the employee. Expenses are added to the employee's W-2 wages in accordance with the law and appropriate taxes are withheld.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - Program Service AccomplishmentsPUBLIC AFFAIRS.

AGA has in place a Public Affairs program to monitor federal legislative activities and to discuss with members of Congress and their staff the views of AGA members on these activities. AGA's government relations efforts play a key role in protecting the interests of the natural gas utility and its customers from proposed legislation that inadvertently or otherwise could have serious impacts on gas supply, the cost of gas service, reliability and/or safety.

- Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP): AGA's ongoing effort with Congress to obtain funding for the federal Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program resulted in final FY 2013 appropriations of $3.3 billion. This program is essential in reducing the financial burden of those on low and fixed incomes as they provide themselves with needed basic energy services.

- Pipeline Safety Reauthorization: AGA's natural gas utility members are committed to operating their systems with the utmost safety, security and reliability. Operational excellence is our industry's highest priority, and we take seriously our responsibility to meet the need of our more than 65 million customers nationwide. In great part due to AGA's engagement, January 2012 marked an important victory when President Obama signed into law the Pipeline Safety, Regulatory Certainty and Job Creation Act. The passage of this bill is a high achievement for AGA and is a testament to AGA's ability to work with legislators regarding reasonable approaches to the natural gas issues critical to our members' success.

- Natural Gas Use: On April 13, 2012 President Obama signed an Executive Order, which affirmed the Administration's commitment to encouraging the greater use of natural gas, a position strongly supported by AGA. AGA also worked with the White House to secure a favorable outcome in the recently released fuel economy standards for light duty vehicles, which makes natural gas vehicles eligible for important manufacturing incentives for the first time.

AGA also developed an Emergency Planning Resource Center with a streamlined mutual assistance program that was successfully implemented during Superstorm Sandy restoration efforts in the northeast. In addition, AGA established a Safety Information Resource Center and Safety Alert System for the sharing of industry safety information.

- The SOS Program: Allows individual members to send operational and technical related inquiries to their peers in member companies to better understand how others are addressing a particular issue/challenge. In 2012, this program facilitated 92 member company requests for operations-related information on such issues as emergency preparedness planning, fire retardant clothing requirements and LNG facility security.

- Operational Excellence: Conducted conferences, workshops, webcasts and roundtables on such topics as Distribution Integrity Management Program Implementation, transmission pipe construction and cybersecurity.

POLICY, PLANNING & REGULATORY AFFAIRS.

AGA's Policy, Planning and Regulatory Affairs Section work in 2012 affected: the dissemination of information and analysis of the economic and physical condition of the natural gas industry; the state and federal regulatory regimes under which natural gas utilities are directly regulated; and securing recognition of the benefits of natural gas in federal energy, environmental and emissions policies.

The Section's Policy Analysis Group provided a vast array of data about all aspects of the natural gas industry and collected and compiled it in ready-reference form.

Among the 2012 publications were: GAS FACTS; Preliminary Findings Concerning Natural Gas Reserves for 2011, US Natural Gas Supply and the LDC Winter Heating Season Performance Survey.

AGA also undertook a wide range of analyses on environmental, financial, gas supply, gas demand, consumer cost, capital requirements, resource efficiency and other issues facing the gas industry. These analyses assisted the general public, members and other decision-makers in resolving the country's current energy problems and in establishing public policies that will be in the nation's best interest.

The Section's Regulatory Affairs Group includes two committees that address respective state and federal regulatory regimes under which most AGA members are regulated: the Rate Committee and the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission Regulatory Committee (FERC).

The Rate Committee has developed and maintains an annual rate fundamentals training course and textbook that is used by many member companies and regulatory agencies in their training programs. It also developed and distributed regular publications on state regulatory proceedings and decisions and general rate design principals and innovations.

In 2012, AGA continued representing the interests of its members with the FERC. For example, AGA filed comments setting forth principles that should guide FERC in how to improve coordination in gas and electric markets.

In addition, AGA developed the AGA FERC Manual which is a regulatory compliance guide directed at natural gas utility members.

INDUSTRY FINANCE & ADMINISTRATIVE PROGRAMS.

The Financial and Administrative group develops and implements programs in the following areas: accounting, customer service, human resources, risk management and information technology. These programs help member companies operate more efficiently. For example, in the customer service area, AGA's Data Source is the utility industry's premier tool for benchmarking customer service programs. Subjects covered include: call centers, energy assistance programs, billing and meter reading. A powerful online search engine enables members to retrieve data
